A CARD.

I WISH TO THANK THE LADIES AND gentlemen who so liberally purchased tickets from Mrs. Wolfe (having disposed of 108) and regret that owing to illness she was unable to take the role of "Queen Esther," although expressing her willingness to do so as soon as she was able, which would not have been later than the 21st inst., and was agreed to by all who were at the rehearsal on the 15th inst., but the next day the Musical Director and several lady members of the Society, very ungratefully and shabbily refused to put the Cantata off any longer. Insomuch as no announcement was made at the entertainment last night, I make this statement in justification of Mrs. Wolfe, so that the public may not be misled and know why she did not appear, and have used the strong remarks above because Mrs. Wolfe has worked hard, faithfully and assiduously to make "Esther" a success, both in its production and financially, and leave the public to judge whether she has been dealt with by the Choral Society in a fair and decent manner. I have also withdrawn my connection with the Society. MARCUS WOLFE.

FREDERICK'S FUNERAL

Takes Place To-day at Potsdam --Imposing Ceremony--Those in Attendance.

The Dowager-Empress Victoria takes a Long and a Last Farewell Look.

THE EMPEROR'S FUNERAL.

Potsdam, June 18—The funeral services over the remains of the late Emperor took place at 10 this morning. Bismarck, Count Von Moltke and the foreign Princes arrived early in the morning from Berlin. Large crowds had congregated outside the railway stations to see them. Soldiers and police were visible everywhere. Castle Friedrichsriche was guarded like a fortress. Church bells tolled. The ministers took their places around the coffin. The Cathedral Choir sang two hymns and Chaplain Kriegel blessed the corpse and the mourners, the choir singing "If I Am to Die." Twelve commanders of the twelve different regiments, of which the Emperor was chief, carried the coffin to the hearse, which drawn by eight jet black horses. Eight Majors took the bridles of the horses and the procession started for Friedrichsriche.

Upon arrival at the church the mourners took the seats assigned them. After service by the chaplain there was a firing of volleys and minute guns by the troops. The mourners then departed. Before leaving the widowed Empress took a solemn last farewell look at her dead husband. The Prince of Wales walked with the Emperor and the King of Saxony in the procession. The funeral services ended shortly before one o'clock.

CEREMONIES IN LONDON.

London, June 18.—Funeral services in memory of Emperor Frederick were held this afternoon in Westminster Abbey. Places were reserved for the diplomats and members of the Houses of Lords and Commons. Orders have been given to half-mast the flags and fire minute guns at all the British military and naval stations both at home and abroad.

GERMANY'S PRESENT AND LATE EMPEROR.

Berlin, June 18.—The behavior of the Emperor is that of a dutiful and loving son. He does not allow many hours to pass without inquiring for his mother. Her manner towards him is most motherly and affectionate.

The post mortem examination, which was made of the late Emperor, was confined to the dissection of the neck, larynx and lungs. In the larynx, which was found to have been destroyed by suppuration, was a cavity about the size of a clinched fist. Dr. Mackenzie states in a report which he has prepared at the command of the Emperor William, that the disease was beyond doubt cancer of the larynx. He adds that a diagnosis of the trouble was rendered very difficult, as the disease had attacked the cartilage of the larynx at the outset, and afterwards developed chiefly in the lower part of the cartilage.

KILLED AND WOUNDED.

Laid at Rest.

The funeral of the late C. J. Robson took place this morning. The cortege left the residence in Esquimalt District at 11 o'clock and reached Christ Church Cathedral shortly before 1 o'clock. The Rev. Mr. Bolton conducted the services at the Cathedral and cemetery. The following gentlemen were pall-bearers: B. W. Pearse, A. M. Bostil, Senator Wm. Macdonald, Capt. McCallum, J. J. Austin and Mr. Walker.

The funeral of the late Thomas Inge took place on Sunday afternoon from the Masonic Temple. The following gentlemen were pall-bearers: Bros. McCahil, Patterson, J. Seymour, and R. Carter. Bishop Cridge officiated at the hall and in the cemetery.

The funeral of William Long took place this forenoon from the Royal Hospital. It was attended by Mr. King, his late employer, and a few intimate friends.

The funeral of the late Rose Catherine C. Johnson, youngest daughter of E. C. and Mary Johnson, took place this afternoon from the parents residence. A large number of sorrowing friends attended. Rev. Percival Jenns read the burial service at St. John's Church and also at Ross Bay cemetery.

Battle of Waterloo.

The battle of Waterloo—a conflict which changed the subsequent history of the world, and is ranked as one of a dozen decisive struggles—was fought on the 18th of June, 1815, seventy-three years ago to-day. Mr. T. Russell, secretary of St. Andrew's and Caledonial Societies, has shown us a relic of that memorable event, which is in the possession of the society. It is a large silver ferrule from a pair of bag-pipes, played on the field of battle by Thos. F. Campbell, piper for the famous 42nd Highlanders. It bears on the inscription: "Presented to Thos. F. Campbell for exemplary conduct, but a youth, on the field of Waterloo." Campbell was at that time 17 years of age. The pipes afterwards came into possession of a relative who subsequently came to Victoria, and the ferrule is now the property of the society.

Lecture To-Night.

The Rev. R. Lennie, of the Baptist Church, Westminster, will lecture at Calvary Baptist Church to-night at 8 o'clock, on the subject: "Men wanted, or A man 's a Man for a' That." It is specially for young men and should be well attended. There will be no admission charge, but a collection will be taken up.

A verdict for defendants was given in the libel suit of Sir Robt. Thorburn, Premier of Newfoundland, against the editors of the Evening Telegram.

OUR TOWN MAJOR.

Jubilee Hospital Meeting on Saturday Night--Half Holiday.

The half holiday to the hard-working employees on Saturdays is about the best (from amongst the few) old country customs followed in the city of Victoria. Long may it continue, extending to all, or nearly all, our fields of labor. Walking thro' our busy streets on a Saturday evening, observing the walkers enjoying their well earned respite from the labors of the past week, is indeed a pleasing sight. Cannot some of our leading philanthropists bestir themselves in providing means of rational enjoyment, combined with useful instruction and teaching, devised to meet the wants of our working classes for Saturday evenings, who have no other resource to fly to than that of resorts which leave behind nothing but demoralizing impressions. The baseball ground, at the junction of Yates and Blanchard streets, appeared to be well patronized. It is thought, however, that perhaps the Park or some vacant building lots would have been a more suitable place than that of one of the leading dusty streets.

The Hose Company turned out in full strength for practice. The way the "boys" handled themselves showed that diligence and training so necessary for the proper fulfillment of their duties.

The Jubilee Hospital (or more properly speaking the Melee Hospital) meeting came off with great eclat at the City Hall, Saturday evening. Shortly after 8 o'clock the meeting was called to order and the Mayor voted to the chair. No secretary was nominated, and like a good many other things, the house filled in slowly. His Worship had the sheep on his right and the goats on his left—the one spiritual leaders and the other spiritual believers, the former evidently in the majority. There might have been a hundred or two present, a poor indication of the interest taken by the greater part of the citizens in a question of such moment to the city. Apathy by the bone and sinew of the population on public questions was here painfully apparent, and can only have one result, i. e., predominance of boodlers, rings and cliques, hurtful to the interests of the workingman. As far as "The Major" can make out there were two parties, similar to those of Lilliput, i. e., the "little Endians," and the "big Endians," and as the preacher said the other day, "force opposes force." In "The Major's opinion it does not matter a rap which end of the egg you break so long as you secure the inside. So with the Jubilee or Melee Hospital. His Worship explained the cause of the meeting. The Rev. Mr. Fraser, representing the Ministerial Association, entered at length, in a very lucid way, as to the objection to the site selected for the hospital, distance, expense in building and running, water, drainage, etc., and moved his resolution, seconded by Senator McDonald, who in a well delivered speech informed the audience that the government were only too willing to accede to the wishes of the majority of the people, and why should'nt they. The resolution was put and needless to say carried. Mr. Langley followed with another resolution calling on the government to confer with the hospital building committee, etc., seconded by Mr. Pearse, who informed his hearers that he was working against his own interests in opposing the Richmond Road site; the land was his, let on lease with a covenanting clause of purchase, etc. This gentleman's residence is in the vicinity of the proposed site. Hospitals don't, as a rule, enhance the value of property, and "The Major" fancies that Mr. Pearse and his object can be pierced thro' without much trouble. The little Endians, so far, had everything their own way but like an avalanche the ex-Mayor Fell on them and knocked the arguments of the "men who should teach men how to live, aye, and how to die," into a cocked hat. He was ably backed by Mr. Wilson, giants both in debate as well as in stature, with hearts and souls in keeping with their massive frames. It's a pity Victoria has not more of their kidney. Mr. Chudley, the hard-working secretary, was in himself a mountain of strength against the opposition and by argument and proof showed the "wheel-about and turn-about jump jim crow" business of the seceders from the opinions of the general committee. A painful incident occurred. Mr. Chudley very properly resented it and backed by the audience and the good offices of Mr. Redfern an apology was tendered and accepted. Hissing, dogs barking and the usual bobbery of a public meeting were freely indulged in, amidst which His Worship preserved the quiet dignity of his position, checking and admonishing where and when needed, and in conclusion of the proceedings he was the recipient of an unanimous vote of thanks from the meeting, and he deserved it to. "The Major," as an outsider, judging impartially and agreeing in the future of Victoria, which is sure to burst her present narrow bounds and extend far beyond the most ardent conception and that before many seasons, the outspoken, straight-foward manly arguments of Messrs. Fell, Wilson and Chudley would not only convert opinions, but also, as they did with the "Major," create a sympathy for men who, endeavoring to do good and work for the interest of their fellow-man, with no ulterior object whatever, nor the slightest semblance of one, receive nothing but opposition and abuse from men that should uphold and assist them in the carrying out of their laudable undertaking.

"Convince a man against his will he'll be of the same opinion still." Believe me, Major Prior, there never was a desire in "the Major's" little comment of any bad intent. Inter nos, those chaps of scientific corps, scarcely know "right about turn" or "form fours." They're the greatest duffers I 'ere saw; far different him of the brave old gallant Forty-twa'! Now, don't take this for a parting shot; "the Major" assures you 'tis not. Be what you are, and should ever he, the valliant, handsome E. G. P.! A Colonel, yes; and that right soon, is the hearty wish of that old dragoon.

THE TOWN MAJOR.

H. J. Cunningham, ex-Mayor, of Ridgetown, and a prominent grain merchant, well-known throughout Canada and the States, died suddenly on the 11th inst.

The misunderstanding between the students of Laval university and the professors has been fixed up and peace once more reigns.

A good many of the Ontario farmers who came to the Northwest to prospect for land have already purchased farms, and not a few of them had decided to settle in the province before coming.

Gen. Sheridan Believed to be Recovering--A Cyclone in Oregon--The Fire Fiend.

GEN. SHERIDAN.

Washington, D.C., June 18—A bulletin issued last night says Gen. Sheridan's condition contrasted with that of last Sunday is most gratifying. There is an improvement as to the action of the heart and lungs. His strength is greater; the desire for food more natural and his sleep is more healthy and refreshing.

FIRE AND FATAL RUNAWAY.

San Diego, Cals., June 18—Early yesterday morning the St. Nicholas Hotel and the adjoining restaurant were destroyed by fire. The proprietors of the restaurant have been arrested on suspicion, as they were heavily insured, and it is believed that they set fire to the restaurant. The loss is $14,000.

Jesus Errada, a horse thief, in attempting to escape from an officer at Temecula, was run away with, thrown and dragged to death by his horse.

A CYCLONE IN OREGON.

Portland, Ore., June 16—A cyclone last night at the Oregon Washington Creeks. Furious torrents at Lexington, seven houses wrecked. Mrs. Brooks killed. H. Perkins house blown down and child killed. Twenty boats capsized at Astoria and many fishermen perished.

TRIAL OF A MURDERER.

Santa Cruz, June 16—In the trial this morning of Jesse Graham, charged with the murder of Dennis Bennett thirty-eight years ago, a number of witnesses who were officials of Merced and Fresno counties all testified to the good character of Graham. The case is continued until Monday.

CONVICTED OF GRAND LARCENY.

New York, June 16—John A. Dunn, the lawyer who was indicted for conspiracy with Richard Scott's defaulting paying teller of the Manhattan Bank, in embezzling one hundred and fifty thousand dollars from that institution, has been convicted of grand larceny in the first degree.

CHICAGO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Chicago, June 18—The Sabbath was disregarded by the various boomers of favorites yesterday and the day was one of the greatest activity among them. The day, however, only added to the general uncertainty. The Pacific coasters held a meeting and organized an association to look for the interests of the coast in convention. It was announced last night that the New York delegation had declared for Depew unanimously and under certain conditions Depew would accept the honor of having his name presented to the convention. In an interview Depew said, "If it should happen that I should be nominated as the candidate of the Republican party for president, within one week from the date of my return to New York I should write a letter to every institution of which I am president, director or trustee, resigning my position to each. This would be due to the obligations I owe to the people. The office of President of the United States is one which can have no divided allegiance.

Workers for Sherman, Alger, Harrison and Gresham claim to have made gains in various directions. But over all these hangs the Blaine boom. It has become quite evident that a deadlock will be brought about, to break which Blaine will be sprung on the convention and receive the nomination.

A $60,000 FIRE.

Ringman, Ariz., June 18—A fire originating in a barber shop here yesterday afternoon swept away the principal business portion of the town. The total loss will exceed $60,000.

Upset in the Harbor.

On Saturday evening as a young lady and gentleman were returning from a row up the arm the boat which they were in (a sliding seat) upset in the harbor opposite the Wilson G. Hunt, and had it not been for the immediate assistance of two young gentlemen who happened to be passing they would undoubtedly have been drowned. They were landed and returned home none the worse for their ducking. It was particularly noticed that the young lady did not scream.

Seeley-Stevenson Race.

The sculling match between Seeley, now of Portland, and Stevenson, of San Francisco, according to the Oregonian takes place on the Willamette next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Both men are professional oarsmen well known all over the country. The Willamette river course is surpassed by none in the United States. The climate is such that men can train almost the entire year, and there is no reason why, if sufficient interest is taken here, the Willamette river course should not become famous as the scene of future great matches. If any one thinks that Seeley has not been in training he should go down to the railroad bridge any afternoon at 3 o'clock and see his form, as he leaves the P. R. A. boat house for his afternoon work. Stevenson is a tall, wiry fellow, and has been at hard work ever since he went to Portland.

The Drowning Accident.

The body of W. E. Blackett has been recovered and brought to Nanaimo, where it will be interred. We learn that at the time of the accident the water was extremely rough, and after being cut off from the Dunsmuir, which had them in tow, the unfortunate men's boat swamped. They both struck out for shore, which was about one hundred yards off, but Blackett was encumbered with gum boots and sank when only twenty yards from safety. His companion, Gibson, sank exhausted in the breakers and was pulled ashore by the men employed at the bridge. He was only resuscitated after the lapse of an hour. The men on shore had a boat to go to the rescue, otherwise both lives might have been saved.

Emperor Frederick's Funeral.

Minute guns were fired during the day at the naval yard and from the navy in the harbor at Esquimalt. Flags were also flying at half-mast. This was in obedience to orders received from the London war office.

Rev. F. R. Beattie, D.D., Ph. D., pastor of the Fifth Presbyterian church, Brantford, has received a call to the chair of apologetics in the Presbyterian theological seminary at Columbia, S. C.

COLLINS VS. THE CORPORATION OF VICTORIA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—Noticing in your issue of Saturday last what purports to be a report of the proceedings before the Chief Justice, and as the report must have emanated from the City Barrister, Councillor Coughlan or Mr. Summerfield, as they were the only parties present besides myself and the Judge, and as I did not and I am sure the Judge did not give the same, I think I should not be trespassing too much on your space to state what did really occur. Mr. Summerfield informed the Judge that he had told Mr. Collins to petition the Corporation for a larger main. This Mr. Collins says is not so, what he did ask him to do was to complain against a neighbor, but he thought it was the duty of Mr. Summerfield to stop the waste of water and not for him to complain. Then Mr. Summerfield, without any necessity, turned upon me and said I had been irrigating all day long. The latter assertion was entirely untrue, as I always have wound up my hose before leaving for my office to prevent my children playing with it and the residents on North Park street during dry weather never have enough water for domestic purposes not alone for irrigation after about 7 a. m. This was not so last year. Mr. Summerfield then said that although he had a four-inch main there it was supplied through a two inch main, and the Judge said that of course the measure of the quantity of water supplied would be only equal to the quantity through the two inch pipe. Since this I have made enquiries and Mr. Hendry, who laid the main, assures me that the four inch pipe is continuous and connects with the twelve inch main on Douglas street. If this is so Mr. Summerfield is equally incorrect in this as in the statement that I irrigated all day. J. P. WALLS.

HOSPITAL SITE DISCUSSION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—The Jubilee Hospital is intended to serve its useful purpose, not for one, but for many years. To a stranger the present hospital appears as though it occupied a large open space, with plenty of fresh air. A day or two ago I paid the hospital a visit and found the hospital land to be a long, narrow strip only two hundred (200) feet in width. On either side is a street about twenty feet in breadth and a similar one in the rear. I found that this land did not front on Pandora street, but the road entrance to the hospital was, by sufferance, through another person's land. Probably withing a very short time, houses will be built on those narrow streets and in front. Then the hospital will have the benefit of the smoke from the chimneys; the noise and tumult incident to habitations, and perhaps the lovely odors and other abominations from manufactories. In fact, the hospital will soon be built in. To erect the new hospital on a frontage of 200 feet, incapable of lateral expansion, literally seems madness; but it is worse than this, for the plans of the proposed hospital show a frontage of more than two hundred feet. So how it is to be put there is a conundrum. Here then there will be a hospital, the inmates breathing smoke and other unhealthy matters! I suppose it will be admitted that fresh air is necessary for the sick. Will they get it in Pandora street? Great stress is laid upon a man with a broken leg and accidents. I was told that for one broken leg taken into the institution, they had at least fifty medical cases. Now, is the hospital to be built to suit the one accident or the fifty medical cases? Surely for the fifty. They require a healthy place and this being so, Pandora street is an entirely unfit place. With regard to the distance between the old and new site I was told that, starting from the post office, if it took ten minutes to drive to the Pandora street site, at the same rate it would take fifteen minutes to drive to the Cadboro road site. So the distance between them is merely as much as can be traversed in five minutes! Where then comes all the row about the Cadboro road site being such a long way off, and so uncommonly out of the way for a broken leg? The front of the hospital site is a mass of rocks, expensive to remove. Below the rocks is a quantity of low land, on which there is said to be three feet of water in winter. This piece of low land stretches a long way through neighboring property. Now, sir, it is clear, that condemning the Cadboro road site will not make the Pandora street site a healthy or suitable one. Cadboro road site has many advantages, and of course some disadvantages; but surely it is unnecessary at this time to find out another, particularly after all what has been done before by the hospital committees, who surely have at least as much sense as the sumptious and presumptious Ministerial Association. If anything were wanting to demonstrate the soundness of the judgment, and the appreciation thereof by the public, the so-called public meeting of Saturday night, which was a complete fizzle, show it. NO STRANGER.

The 'Busses.

We understand that the Transfer Co., at the solicitations of many of the patrons of their 'bus line, have consented to place the 'busses again on the Fort and Douglas street route, the fare having been increased five cents. Service will begin to-morrow.

Malignant Diphtheria.

Another member, Rose, the youngest daughter of the family of Mr. E. C. Johnson, of Rock Bay, has fallen a victim to diphtheria. The young lady was in the neighborhood of 16 years and well known amongst her classmates in the schools of this city as one of our brightest and most promising scholars. She was preparing for the teaching profession. A few days since the next member of the family, her brother, aged 14 years, also fell a victim to this malignant disease. The afflicting hand, it will be observed, is being laid very heavily upon Mr. Johnson's family. Other members were also attacked, but are reported to be improving. The family in this, their dark hour of trouble and affliction, have the sincerest sympathy of their numerous acquaintances in this city. The blanks so suddenly created is a void which will long be felt in the family circle. The remains of the young lady were laid in their last resting place in Ross Bay Cemetery this afternoon.

THE LICENSING BOARD.

The licensing board of this city, as at present constituted, is an irresponsible body of men. It is composed of the Mayor of the city for the time being, the police magistrate and as many Justices of the Peace as it is possible to drum up for the occasion. The policy of the licensing authorities of late years has been to limit the number of licenses to those already issued, and by repeatedly refusing to grant new applications, on the broad ground that there were already enough for the requirements of the city, the board has been acting in accordance with public sentiment and in the best interests of the community. For this reason a license has been refused Mr. FEE several times. The location of Mr. FEE's place of business, at the corner of Pioneer and Quadra streets, is in the center of a quiet, residential portion of the city, when the majority of the people are opposed to a license in the immediate locality, and have repeatedly petitioned against the granting of one. Mr. FEE, however, has been successful in procuring a license for the sale of liquors by securing the presence at the licensing court of a number of magistrates who were favorable to his application and who hitherto have seldom attended meetings of the board.

Some members of the licensing board, we are aware, believe that any citizen who complies with the law is entitled to a license; in other words that there should be no limitation of the number, and no discretion exercised by the board in regard to the locality if the applicants are reputable persons and pay the fee required of them. But all license laws impose restrictions and limitations, and a licensing board would be unnecessary in Victoria if our law did not grant it discretionary power. It is obvious that our licensing system requires revision and that a responsible licensing power must take the place of the present Board if there is to be anything like "laxity of tenure" on the part of liquor dealers. Under the present law, it is possible to take away all the licenses in the city, or issue a few hundred more, according to the composition for the time being of the licensing board, which, with the exception of the Police Magistrate and the Mayor, is responsible to no person.

GERMANY'S LATE AND PRESENT EMPEROR.

The mortal remains of Emperor FREDERICK III. were to have been interred to-day, Monday. This was in accordance with the wishes of the late Emperor and Empress VICTORIA. The obsequies were to be held in the afternoon and to have been devoid of all pomp, but was to be of a military character. The limited accommodation would necessarily make the attendance small. Nevertheless the British nation with that of Germany will drop a sympathetic tear, for Britons everywhere had learned to love and honor the husband of Queen VICTORIA's eldest daughter—Britain's Princess Royal. He has now disappeared for ever from view. His reign, although brief, was marked by wisdom, prudence and judgment. Had he lived it is believed the world would have been benefitted by his reign, for he gave every promise of being a useful as well as wise ruler. His whole life was one worthy a great man who leaves behind him a record such as few men are called upon to pass through. He is gone, but it will be many a day ere he is forgotten.

The early interment of Emperor FREDERICK has prevented the citizens of Victoria from holding memorial services to-day. It was the intention to hold a joint service in which the English as well as the German portion of our citizens could participate. Such a service would not only be appropriate but they would also be appreciated and largely attended.

As already stated the Crown Prince WILLIAM was declared a successor to FREDERICK last Friday. He is now ruler of Germany under the title of WILLIAM II. On Saturday he issued a general order to the army, in which a pathetic reference was made to Emperor WILLIAM I. and to the late FREDERICK III. Of his father the young Emperor says: "I refer you to "my loved father, who, as the Crown "Prince, had already won a place of "honor in the annals of the army "and to a long line of glorious ancestors whose names shine brightly in "history, whose hearts beat warmly "for the army. Thus we belong to "each other, I and the army. Thus "we were born for one another, and "thus we will stand together in an "indissoluble bond, in peace or "storm, as God may will it. You "will now take the oath of fidelity "and obedience to me and I swear "ever to remember that the eyes of "my ancestors look down on me "from the other world and that I "shall one day have to render an account to them of the glory and "honor of the army."

In his general order to the navy he says the present is a profoundly grave period. He looks confidently to the future, faithfully preserving the memory of his grandfather and father. "The navy knows," observes Emperor WILLIAM, "that not only "does it give one great joy to be-"long to it by an external bond, but "since my earliest youth a warm "lively interest has, in complete sym-"pathy with my dear brother, "Prince HENRY, united me with the "navy. I have learned to appreciate "the high sense of honor and the "faithful fulfilment of duty in the "navy. I know that every member "of the navy is prepared joyfully to "give his life for the honor of the "German Government whenever it "may be. Thus in this sad hour I "can say in all confidence, we shall "stand together firmly, in good and "evil days, in storm as well as in "sunshine, ever remembering the "glory of the German Fatherland, "ever prepared to shed our blood for "the honor of Germany, and God's "blessing will be with us."

WILLIAM II received the title of Major-General from his grandfather WILLIAM I, on the 27th of last January, as a birthday present. Two years ago he only ranked as Major, and people in general looked with surprise at the slowness with which he advanced, yet all praised the thoroughness of his military education. Innumerable princelings were then above him, as well as untitled men of not much longer service, for a Prussian Prince receives his straps at the age of ten. He was compelled to work like the rest of his comrades, equally subject to military discipline. Early and late he was with his regiment, ordered about as an ordinary major, saluting his superiors with little or no attention—in a military way—paid to his royal rank. A few weeks, however, has changed all this, for not only is he a Major-General, but he is likewise Emperor. His grandfather appointed him by telegraph, he then being stationed at Potsdam, and a few hours later he presented himself to his grandsire in his new regimentals, beamingly happy at his increased importance. Prior to his father's death, and while Emperor WILLIAM yet livid, any hour might have made the present Emperor a Crown Prince—yes even a King and an Emperor. It is believed that the Grand Old Kaiser fully realized all this and thought it best to recognize its possibility and prepare the young Prince for its full realization.

Emperor WILLIAM lacks the prominent rugged features of his father and the handsome lines of his grandsire. The Hohenzollerns have no hereditary physical characteristics. Even Prof. VIRCHOW failed to find any cranial ones in his scientific examination of the ancestral skulls. They have never intermarried, having purest blood of all royal families, a custom which tends to preserve and intensify peculiarities. Emperor WILLIAM has the appearance of a young man of 25. His upper lip shows a sparse blonde moustache, his nose is slightly Roman, with a medium forehead, and his hair stands back like BEETHOVEN's. But, despite the comparatively weak chin, his cold blue eye has a brave, daring expression which reminds one a little of the great FREDERICK, whom he is fondly said to resemble in character. He is slender in build and shorter in stature than his brother, the "naval Hohenzollern." His right hand is badly crippled and his right arm at least two inches shorter than his left—a defect which has caused as much annoyance and mental pain as ever BYRON's deformity did. He tries upon every occasion to conceal it, but tries, of course, in vain. Yet the skill he possesses is remarkable. He carries his sword upon parade as well as any officer, and has become a most excellent fencer, rides like a Cossack and shoots with unerring aim. No officer in the army was more popular than this royal scion, and none is more clever. No wonder that his men are attached to him. He had a pleasant word for all, and cracked his joke with the common man as though he were of his number. His training has been very democratic. He attended school at Cassel, boarding with one of the teachers, and treated exactly as one of the other boys.

He was graduated after several years at Cassil among the first in his class, to the great satisfaction of his parents, who attended the commencement. He afterwards—as is the Hohenzollern custom — attended the university at Bonn, and joined the famous Saxe-Borussen corps, over whose annual meetings he presides, and is as eager as any in relating the pranks of his student days. Despite the popularity of his grandfather and the sympathy and love entertained for his father, it is quite safe to say that the majority of the German nation spend more enthusiasm upon Emperor WILLIAM as the wearer of the mantle of FREDERICK the Great, and believe him destined to fulfil the cherished hopes of Germany, farther the plans of a BISMARCK and MOLTKE, and cement the union of the fatherland.

In April, 1851, Prince FREDERICK WILLIAM stepped for the first time on English soil, having accepted an invitation to attend the opening of the great Industrial World Exhibition in London. One result of the exhibition was his betrothal to Princess VICTORIA. It is obvious, from the very cool way in which the Prince Consort writes of the event to his friend, Baron STOCKMAR, that the match was not thought to be a very grand one, though, on the whole, quite satisfactory. Prussia was not the power in 1851 that it is now; and the House of Hohenzollern, now the most illustrious in Europe, was then judged by the pitiful policy of its two last representatives on the throne, who were content to play second fiddle to the Emperor NICHOLAS, of Russia. What appeared to reconcile the bride's father to the marriage, was his observation that the young people seemed to like each other, and that the young Hohenzollern had "honest eyes, and a frank and amiable disposition." It was not until 1855, however, that the engagement was made public. The wedding was postponed, on account of the extreme youth of the bride, until January 25, 1858. It took place in the chapel of St. James' Palace, London. After the ceremony, QUEEN VICTORIA embraced and kissed her daughter and son-in-law and turned her cheek to the latter's father who had respectfully stooped to kiss her hand. When the young couple embarked at Gravesend in the royal yacht, Victoria and Albert, there was an enormous concourse of people, who were wildly cheering, and even the river was covered for miles with boats, from which innumerable handkerchiefs waved a last good-bye to "the fair rose of England." Particularly amusing to the Prince was the homely and disrespectful advice freely imparted by the sailors and Thames boatmen, who crowded about the royal yacht. "Be true to her now," one honest fellow called out. "Keep her well," another shouted. "God bless you for it," was a greeting of a third. The railroad journey from Brussels to Berlin was a triumphal progress, full of interesting incidents.

Sore Eyes

The eyes are always in sympathy with the body, and afford an excellent index of its condition. When the eyes become weak, and the lids inflamed and sore, it is an evidence that the system has become disordered by Scrofula, for which Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best known remedy.

Scrofula, which produced a painful inflammation in my eyes, caused me much suffering for a number of years. By the advice of a physician I commenced taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using this medicine a short time I was completely

Cured

My eyes are now in a splendid condition, and I am as well and strong as ever.—Mrs. William Gage, Concord, N. H.

For a number of years I was troubled with a humor in my eyes, and was unable to obtain any relief until I commenced using Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine has effected a complete cure, and I believe it to be the best of blood purifiers.—C. E. Upton, Nashua, N. H.

From childhood, and until within a few months, I have been afflicted with Weak and Sore Eyes. I have used for these complaints, with beneficial results, Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and consider it a great blood purifier.—Mrs. C. Fleming, Glover, Vt.

I suffered for a year with inflammation in my left eye. Three nights in succession, on the ball, depriving me of sight, and causing great pain. After trying many other remedies, to no purpose, I was finally induced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

By Taking

three bottles of this medicine I have been entirely cured. My sight has been restored, and there is no sign of inflammation, sore, or ulcer in my eye.—Randal T. Bowen, Sugar Tree Ridge, Ohio.

My daughter, ten years old, was afflicted with Scrofulous Sore Eyes. During the last two years she never saw light of any kind. Physicians of the highest standing exerted their skill, but with no permanent success. On the recommendation of a friend I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which my daughter commenced taking. Before she had used the third bottle her sight was restored. Her cure is complete.—W. E. Shriverland, Evangelist, Shelby City, Ky. tf

THE CHAMPIONSHIP.

A Keen Contest Expected Between Paine and Peterson Next Week.

Next Saturday the championship of the Pacific Coast will be contended for on Shawnigan Lake between William Paine the British Columbia champion sculler and Henry Peterson, San Francisco's champion. The course will be a three-mile one. In addition to the championship there will be $2,000 in stakes. Both men have been hard at work for the past month preparing for their contest. Paine, who is being attended by H. A. Ball, as trainer, has showen a marked improvement in his speed during his course of preparation. He has done more work than Peterson both on land and water. He rows from ten to fifteen miles each day. He is, consequently, in prime condition, tough as a pine knot and full of vigor. A row over the course, which he generally takes each morning, finishing at a good clipping gait, scarcely affects him, and he gets out of his boat in a fit condition to row over the course again on time. He has a great of confidence in his ability to win, and no one will be more surprised than he if Peterson should defeat him. A correspondent of the Examiner writes that he saw Paine row over the course on two afternoons last week. His boat carries him well, and he seems at home in her. His stroke is long and easy, rowing well within himself. He reaches well out and recovers neatly and quickly. He is what a sculler terms a straight backed oarsman, or he rows similar to the style of O'Connor, the Canadian. He usually starts out on his practice spin, rowing about twenty-eight strokes to the minute, finishing his last half mile at about thirty-two. His admirers feel perfectly satisfied with their belief that he is fast enough to keep company with Peterson for the first mile and to easily row him down after that. He is undoubtedly a very fast oarsman, and his previous performances, especially that against Ball, whom he easily defeated by five lengths over a three-mile course, in the very fast time of 20 minutes and 30 seconds, justifies the unbounded confidence that his friends have in him. He will come to the starting post weighing 158 pounds. His new shell is expected to arrive from Toronto during the coming week, when he will begin at once to row in her. Peterson has been getting along very well with his training. He is in first-class condition and eager for the 23d to arrive. He has been taking moderate exercise and expects to go to start weighing 178 pounds. With the exception of a slight cold, he has enjoyed perfect health during the time he has been in Victoria. His new boats, or rather the boats which he bought from O'Connor, carry him admirably. They are so much alike that he has not yet decided which one he will use for the race.

In some respects Peterson has slightly altered his style of rowing, and has also changed the rigging of his boats. He has discovered that the high rig, which is most serviceable in the generally rough water of San Francisco Bay, is not the best to get speed out of a boat on the still, smooth surface of a fresh-water lake, and therefore he has lowered his outriggers an eight of an inch. Whether the change is for the better or not remains to be seen. Peterson's practice pulls are being closely watched by the people of Victoria. Every day large numbers of visitors, principally sporting men, go down to the boat-house to see him take his afternoon row, and such comment as, "I don't see anything in Peterson to make me afraid," "He's a big man, but I think he lacks speed," "Paine has got no easy trick to beat that Californian," are made.

Yesterday a local sporting man, who had laid some money on Paine, said to an Examiner correspondent just after Peterson had got into his boat and started off from the float for his afternoon spin. "I think the California people bet on Peterson just out of sympathy; they don't use much judgment. I have seen both men row, and think Paine, in style and speed, far superior to the Californian."

Another sporting light said: "There is no use talking; Paine is the man. We Victorians have great confidence in his skill as a sculler. I have bet on him in several races and I know that he will not lose."

Notwithstanding all this, Peterson has many supporters in Victoria. Neither of the contestants are inclined to say much. They take things quietly and say that the 23d will decide. Betting on the race has begun, with Paine a slight favorite. Yesterday the betting was at the rate of $10 to $7 on Paine. In San Francisco, however, the local scullers still pin their faith to Henry Peterson's chances of success, and quite a number of small amounts have already been wagered on the result, at even money. The majority of oarsmen prefer to hold their money, until the pool-box is open, which will be some day during the coming week. It was reported around the rowing clubs yesterday that a local sporting man had received a large sack from Victoria with instructions that the money should be placed on Paine. According to reports Paine is a very reliable oarsman. He has what is called a long head, and is always ready to take advantage of every point in a race. There is every prospect that both men will go to the line in the best possible fix, and they will have good boats to row in. They have had ample time for preparation, and their performance will no doubt be as good as they are capable of.

ELECTRIC FORCE.

The Great Fundamental Principle of the Universe and its Power to Restore Health to Humanity.

Experiments by scientists are constantly and surely proving electricity to be the great motor power of creation. Electricity is the most powerful chemical agent, as well as the basis of chemical action. It is the primal element of light and heat; the promoter of life, and the sustainer of health.

Disease yields readily to its magnetic touch, and even unrelenting death is averted by its presence. Thousands of afflicted and suffering bear witness to its healing power. The electro-magnetic as practiced by the Drs. Darrin has revolutionized the practice of medicine, as is shown by the following

The Big Arbitration Case.

The gentlemen forming the arbitration committee relative to the Onderdonk contract are now on their way to Vancouver. They will remain over a day at Winnipeg, Calgary, and at Banff, where they will take part in the opening ceremonies connected with the new C.P.R. hotel. They will then proceed to the coast. Mr. W. C. Van Horne is one of the party, but he precedes them, having important business matters to attend to at Shuswap, where he will meet some of the officials of the proposed Shuswap and Okanagon Railway. In addition to the general manager there were the following: Mr Octave Chaunte, C E, Chief Engineer, Erie R R, Mr Edmund Wragge, C E, of the Grand Trunk R R, Mr J C Bailey, C E, of the Grand Trunk R R and other railroads, Mr Sandford Fleming, C E, and Mr T C Gregory, C E, and other engineers, the Hon Chancellor Boyd, of Ontario, Messrs B B Osler, W Cassells, J Hogg and others. They will be guests at the Hotel Vancouver. During their visit this caravansary will be formally opened. Mr J C Bailey, C E, also a member of the committee, arrived a few days since and with Mr H J Cambie the resident engineer of the C.P.R., has gone up the track to inspect the line.

Our Leading Bank.

The Bank of Montreal is the leading monetary institution of this continent and second only to the Bank of England in its capital and volume of business transacted. From the statement submitted at the annual meeting a few weeks since we learn that the net earnings of the institution for the twelve months ending with April were $1,284,501, equal to 10.7 per cent. on the capital of $12,000,000, compared with $1,520,195, equal to 12.668 per cent. in the year immediately preceding, which was a very good year. After dividing 10 per cent among shareholders, against 12 per cent. in 1887, there remains $600,000 to be carried forward, a slightly larger sum than in the former year. Deposits amount to $23,600,000—nearly 44 per cent. of them bearing no interest—which is $6,000,000 more than at the close of the previous year. Circulation, $5,500,000, is about the same. Assets immediately available, $16,146,000, are some $2,500,000 greater in aggregate, while the total assets are about $6,000,000 greater, namely, $48,635,000. Loans and bills discounted amount to $31,452,000, and there is an increase of overdue debts, not, however, of those unsecured.

An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" with which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word Malaria was comparatively unknown—to-day it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word covers only the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and Malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called Biliousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the Liver which in performing its functions finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, Malaria, Bilious Fever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

Mothers!!

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mother's friend. 35 doses, 35 cents. mr 21 3m.

An Affecting Scene.

A touching scene occurred at the bedside of the Emperor Frederick on the morning of his death, just as his life was ebbing away. Prince Bismarck had been called to bid his dying master a last farewell. The emperor was thoroughly conscious, and taking the hand of the aged chancellor in his own feeble clasp, and motioning the empress to draw nearer, he took her hand and joined it with that of Bismarck, thus giving a silent and pathetic token of his desire for reconciliation of all differences between his wife and the prime minister.

A Desirable Residence.

Mr Joshua Davies offers for sale by auction the residence on Fort street erected a year or two ago by Mr. Ed. Neufelder. Fort street is probably the most desirable residential street in the city, and Mr. Neufelder's property is very conveniently situated within a few minutes walk of the post office. The grounds are handsomely laid out and the building, in its internal finishing and arrangements, is complete in every detail. All the conveniences have been provided regardless of what they cost. The property will no doubt be purchased at a price below what it cost (somewhere in the neighborhood of $8000) and some person will get a bargain.

An Engine Derailed.

As No. 4 train, conductor Weldon in charge, was returning to Wellington on Saturday, the engine ran full tilt against a large fir tree which had fallen across the track within an hour, as the same train had passed over the line a short time before. The tree was heavy enough to break the steel rail, and the train came against the tree with sufficient force to break it. The engine was derailed but with the exception of slight damage to the cow catcher no injury was sustained. The engine was replaced by the trainmen and the track repaired in time for traffic today.

ROYAL JUBILEE HOSPITAL.

Public Meeting on Saturday Objects to New Site.

The public meeting on Saturday night at the City Hall, called by Mayor Grant in response to a requisition presented to him, was attended by a number of representative men, although there were not as many present as we expected to see. The interviews with our medical men and other prominent citizens, published some days ago in THE TIMES, have forestalled the impressions of opinion by the speakers, and as nothing new was added to the discussion, reports of the several speeches are unnecessary. Rev. Mr. Fraser stated the arguments against the new site very clearly, forcibly and temperately, and moved the following resolution;

That this meeting, while acknowledging the valuable services of the committee of subscribers in raising funds to meet the government grant for building a Jubilee Hospital, is of the opinion that the site chosen by the committee is inferior to some others that might be obtained; on account, first, of its distance from the centre of population, entailing in many cases increased suffering and danger to patients, practical exclusion from the institution and inconvenience to medical attendants and friends; secondly, of the increased cost of erection and maintenance; and, thirdly, on account of the difficulty and uncertainty of water-supply and drainage.

It is further of opinion that the Royal Hospital site is free in a great measure from the above objections, of sufficient extent and commanding situation; not inferior, but probably superior, in respect to salubrity; and in a city of gardens and orchards, within no measurable distance of the danger of overcrowding, is a preferable site for a jubilee hospital to that on the Richmond road.

That the sacrifice of the latter site in favor of some other convenient to the city would entail no additional financial obligation on the committee of subscribers, but rather the contrary, on account of the saving of the expenses referred to above.

Senator Macdonald seconded the motion, which was, strange to say, carried without opposition although there were a number present opposed to it.

Mr. A. J. Langley, moved:

That the Provincial Government be requested to confer with the general and building committees of the Jubilee Hospital on the subject of the foregoing resolutions in the hope that they may be induced to change their purpose of erecting the Royal Jubilee Hospital on the distant and inconvenient site on the Richmond Road, and that a deputation of three be named by the Mayor to convey these resolutions to the Honorable, the Provincial Premier.

This was seconded by Mr. Pearse, and provoked a warm discussion, participated in by Ex-Mayor Fell, Mr. A. Wilson and Mr. Chudley—who defended the actions of the committee and pointed out the danger of defeating the whole scheme by continuing the agitation for a change of site—and by Ald. Powell, and Ex-Mayor Redfern, both of whom made convincing speeches in opposition to the Richmond Road location. The resolution carried, and the Mayor appointed Messrs. Pearse, Wilson and Redfern as a committee to carry out the purport of the resolution, and with votes of thanks to the chair the meeting adjourned.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

[Before Hon. A. N. Richards, Q.C.]

H. Lapierre, on remand from the 7th instant, charged with aggravated assault on H. Fried.

G. L. Milne, M. D., deposed that Mr. Fried was improving and is out of danger.

John Ford stated—I know the parties and saw an altercation between them on a Saturday evening about three weeks ago; witness was with a man named Allen; prosecutor passed Ford and Allen on Fort street; heard Fried daring Lapierre to slap him; defendant was putting up his shutters and his back was turned to Lapierre; the words used by Fried were: "Come out and slap me you French ——." Defendant then slapped and kicked Fried; have known Lapierre for two or three years; he bears a very good character.

To Supt. Bloomfield—Lapierre's blow with his fist did not reach Fried's face; the kick did hurt Fried.

J. Brown stated he heard Fried using bad language on Saturday, June 3rd. Heard a rush but did not see any blows struck on account of the darkness; heard a voice calling names but cannot positively swear that it was Mr. Fried's voice.

Thomas Anderson stated that he was coming across the street when the altercation took place; heard them arguing; Lapierre had a shutter in his hand; heard Fried call Lapierre "a French ——;" saw Fried drop, and heard him challenge Lapierre to fight; saw no blows struck; defendant said he did not want to fight.

His Honor said the assault was a very dangerous one, as he might have done irreparable injury to Fried. He considered the man should be sent to gaol and he sentenced him accordingly to imprisonment for one month with hard labor and fined him $80. The costs of prosecution, amounting to $19.25, was also to be paid by Lapierre.

Adolph Wagner, drunk and disorderly. Fined $5.

Wah Wah, a West Coast Indian woman, was charged with stealing a pair of shoes from A. A. Aaronson's store. Prisoner pleaded guilty and was discharged with a caution.

A Chinaman charged with vagrancy was sent to the Provincial gaol for one month.

The charge against a carpenter for infraction of the building by-law was remanded for two weeks.

Michael Connors, remanded from the 11th inst., on a charge of indecent assault, failed to appear. Bail ($100) estreated.

Ah Lin, Ah Lang and Ah Chee, on remand, charged with robbing a man named Neville. Supt. Bloomfield said he wanted some Chinese witnesses and as they were afraid to appear and he would apply for warrants. The warrants were issued and the case remanded.

Keppler's Fortunes.

The following is the plot of Keppler's Fortunes in which the famed dialect comedian, Mr. Gus Williams begins an engagement at the Victoria Theatre this Monday night. Mr. Williams as Albert Keppler is a New York butcher. His only relative, a brother in Germany, dies intestate, and Keppler inherits a fortune of $250,000. His ambitious wife attempts to enter a fashionable set, and a new home is purchased. Keppler becomes the prey of a sharper who flatters him a good deal until, quite upset by his good fortune, he disowns one of his daughters, who still clings to her old-time lover. About this time Keppler's lawyer discovers that the deceased brother left a will bequeathing his fortune to a grandchild whose mother, cast off by the testator because of a marriage which had displeased him, had disappeared. Keppler accidently discovers that his grandniece, the heiress of the fortune, is a sewing girl in his own family. He makes this fact known, returns to butchering, and goes into politics as well. There are some pretty situations, and Mr. Williams is very pleasingly cast. Indeed, he has not been seen to better advantage in some years, especially in the more pathetic scenes in which the play abounds, his acting is very forcible. "When We Ran With the Old Machine," a song introduced by Mr. Williams in the third act, is a charming bit of melody and was nicely sung. The support is strong.

An Obnoxious Magistrate.

The settlers of Alberni, to the number of about forty, have signed a petition to the Lieutenant-Governor praying for the removal of Mr. J. C. Mollett from the office of Justice of the Peace, owing "to the obnoxious manner in which he has conducted himself." The petitioners constitute two-thirds of the entire adult male population of the settlement.

PERSONAL.

Sir John will attend the closing exercises of the Royal Military college, Kingston, on June 28, after which he will spend the summer on the lower St. Lawrence with Lady Macdonald.

Mr Hayter Reed, Assistant Indian Commissioner, Regina, was married in St John's Church, Belleville, last week to Miss Georgina Horton, daughter of the late Colonel Horton. Major Crozier, late of the Mounted Police was groomsman.

At the Oriental: C H Barrows, E Eccles, Miss Nelson, England; Mr McKenzie, Stewart's Lake; J C Whyte, Nanaimo; W Wilson, Duncan's; John Wilson, Capt Rogers, Nanaimo; Mrs Charley, Somenos; G C Webster, Vancouver.

Mr. Baker, of the firm of Baker & Co, gold, silver and platinum refiners of Newark, N J, was in the city last week. He came here on a prospecting tour. His company's works are the largest of the kind in the world. He was favorably impressed with our mineral resources and will so report to his partners in the east.

John Johnston, who left Fournier, Ontario, some three years ago for British Columbia has not been heard of since. He is about 36 years of age, rather under the average stature, fair complexion and hair and hazel eyes. If this should catch the eye of Mr Johnston or any one who can give information as to his whereabouts, a favor will be conferred by communicating with Mrs Mortimer at the above address.

It is now positively known that the Hon Edward Blake will return to Canada at the end of August. Although he has not been absent very long, he will find that many changes have occurred in his absence, and he will meet with new faces in the Legislative Halls when he resumes his seat. The long rest and freedom from worry should have benefitted him considerably, and no doubt he finds himself in good trim for the work which awaits him.

At the Clarence: W C Heywood, S Williams, E Cooper, H Nicholson, A G Johnston, Vancouver; A N Smith, Chemainus; E B Palmer, Nanaimo; Mrs P McDonald, Tacoma; C McCiary and wife, Dayton, W T; A P Lenton, England; W T Carroll, Richmond, Vt; R B Ireland, D McKinnon, W W Poole, J H Fitzgerald, T H Lowe, Seattle; W H Grant, Portland; H Miller, Minneapolis; L W Smith, New York.

At the Driard; A B Jackson, J R James, Portland; W Halin, O Ross, L L Donelly, W B Waters and wife, Chicago: C W Mead, L Fillmore, San Francisco; M J Hanes, Waterton, N Y; W Williams, New London, Conn; Mrs Stan, Oakland; H Tilton, Chemainus; D E Brown, Vancouver, G H Tweedie, Honolulu; W H Hooper, Brandon; W C Van Fleet, Sacramento; R Harcourt, E Horolan, J Machell, Miss M G Machell, Mrs A E Davie, Miss Susie Davie, San Francisco.

Without a Peer.

The comic songs, recitations and piano solos of Mr. Gus Williams, the great dialect comedian, are said to be alone worth the price of admission. In the play of Keppler's Fortune in which Mr. Williams begins a three nights engagement in this city this evening, he will sing his latest, "From the Cradle to the Grave" and "When we Ran with the Old Machine," both songs are meeting with great favor everywhere. As to Mr. Williams ability as a comedian in his own special line, he is said to stand without a peer on the stage, and his two comedies which he presents in this city Keppler's Fortunes and Oh! What A Night have received the unanimous endorsement of the press and public throughout the United States.

Ship Silverdale Gets Away.

Captain Morton succeeded in getting away on Saturday afternoon with a crew of twenty men. Seven of the men sentenced to imprisonment for twelve weeks were taken on board by deputy sheriff John Langley, Provincial officers Campbell and Lewis. Six of the crew remained in the Provincial gaol. The men taken on board were unwilling to return and before the vessel left Esquimalt three of the men were ironed and locked up on board. The remainder went to work and the Provincial officers left the vessel in Royal Roads.

Election of School Trustees.

Between eleven and twelve o'clock this forenoon the nominations for school trustees took place in the different wards of this city. In Johnson Street Ward Mr. H. F. Heisterman was elected by acclamation. Lieut.-Colonel R. Wolfenden was also elected by acclamation in James Bay Ward. In Yates Street Ward, Messrs. D. Spencer and Dr. Richard Morrison were nominated. Polling will take place in the Deluge Engine House to-morrow.
